Mayor Fred Antrobus Re-Elected by Large Majority Over A. Easton

Ramsay and Cox Elected to Council; 366 Voters Mark
Their Ballots.

Mayor Fred Antrobus, seeking re-election as mayor, received overwhelming support from the voters at Monday's election and practically tripled the count over his opponent, Alex. Easton, gaining 272 votes to 91.

Mayor Antrobus' record of the past year when he and his council showed an operating surplus for 1941 and the fact that he has many years of experience as a councillor with which to prepare him in dealing with important civic matters which are due to arise within the next two years, may have accounted for him securing such a large majority.

John Ramsay and Fred Cox both were successful in being elected to the council, Ramsay headed the poll with 231 votes and Cox polled 218. Mickey Joyce, whom many had expected to secure election trailed Cox by 39 votes securing only 179. John Holyk, who made his first attempt at civic office polled only 94 votes.

Only 366 of the possible 660 voters voted. Two cars were on duty bringing a number of the elderly voters to the polls. The results were made known at 8 p.m., an hour after the polls closed. Wm. Borrows was official sever.

Kerr and Leier Had Disastrous Day.

Ed. Ledieu's rink after suffering four straight defeats advanced further in the bonspiel competitions than his two club rinks, Kerr and Leier, who had been knocking the opposition aside with ease during the first two days of the 'spiel.

Ledieu reached one final where he lost out after a closely contested game. Kerr, after winning five out of six games, lost four straight to be eliminated from all competitions. Two of his men became victims of the flu. Leier, who had won four games out of five also hit the toboggan to lose all remaining games.

WEDDINGS

SIMBALIST - ROBERT

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the United church at Coleman, on the evening of February 6, when Margaret Robert, R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Robert, of Coleman, became the bride of the Rev. Ralph Simbalist, of the R.C.M. Police.

To the strains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, the bride entered on the arm of her cousin, Ronald Fife. She looked charming in a frock of Air Force blue, an off-the-face hat, and a corsage of roses and heather. Pastor of the church, Rev. J. E. Kirk, performed the ceremony. The groom was supported by Sergeant Mudman.

During the signing of the register, Miss Isabel Meffan, of Blairmore, sang, "I Love You Truly." The bridal party proceeded to the R.C.M. Police barracks in Blairmore, where a small reception was held for immediate friends and relatives.

The living-room was decorated with pink and white streamers, Spring flowers and wedding bells. The bride's table was centred by a silver and white cake topped by a Mounted Police figure.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Sergeant Mudman and suitably responded to by the groom. The happy couple left on the evening bus for a honeymoon in Calgary.

HOLYK - KUBASEK

Girl Guide Notes

Guide meetings, since Christmas, have been better attended. This results in more work being covered, and a more successful parade in every way.

We are very pleased that Miss H. Dillie has joined our Guides, and the second class girls have been taking up the study of time and the compass under her leadership. Morse—the stumbling block, it seems—has been progressing with Miss Emmerson giving the instructions.

The girls working on their first class have been studying the district—and found, to the amazement of many, that the avenues of the Town are well and definitely named! Just ask any guide the way to—well, anywhere in town—and they should be able to tell you.

On February 2, we had a sort of campaign in order to raise the money for a donation to St. Alban's church guild in return for the use of the hall. Each mother received a letter explaining why the special request was made, and the response was exceptionally good—with the result that we were able to donate $7.00 to the guild.

On Monday, February 9, we held our regular parade, and, as a novelty, a contest was arranged with pictures of world-famous people. The girls did very well with them—Louise Aboussafy won the small prize donated by the Captain by knowing eleven of the twelve people pictured.

We were pleased to have three new recruits the three Kellington girls, two of whom had been Brownies.

On Tuesday evening fifteen ladies met at the home of Mrs. H. Daffoe in order to organize a work group to assist the Red Cross Society.

Mrs. Daffoe was appointed treasurer, and the work committee will be under the convener'ship of Miss E. Haysom.

The group will meet on the first and third Fridays of each month, at 7:30 p.m. The place of each meeting will be decided upon by the committee and the members notified accordingly.

At this meeting pieces for a quilt were cut, and some strips sewn, as well as several articles for layettes cut.

GERMAN ARTILLERY ON THE RUSSIAN FRONT WEAKENED FOR THE LACK OF SHELLS

Moscow. — Severely rationed on shells and hampered by loss of guns, German artillery has been almost cancelled out as an important factor in the white drifts of Russia, and the Red army continues to advance after meeting fresh reserves and smashing repeated counter-attacks, Soviet war despatches said.

Heavy fighting was reported in virtually all sectors, but the most determined action was northwest of Moscow beyond Kalinin and in the south in the Donets basin.

Scores of populated places were liberated and one big unnamed centre was outstanding, it was declared. On the Leningrad front, Red army cavalry slashed a deep hole in the German ring and destroyed communications.

The communiqué said that the Red army smashed German counter-thrusts and in its own offensive operations up and down the front occupied a number of villages.

(The BBC said the Russian forces had launched a vigorous new drive near Leningrad with forces strengthened by reserves and the heaviest new tanks. Rapid penetration by the cavalry was followed up by infantry and artillery and the "gap in the German ring keeps widening," the broadcast said.)

Red Star said the Germans were rushing reserves to the scene by air, and lost heavily in attempting to rescue one surrounded garrison. News pictures showed sizeable Red army units operating beyond the Volkov river to the rear of the Germans.

In the south, the party newspaper Pravda said "the continued liberation of the Donets basin marked the last day's achievement."

The Red army was said to be launching a new offensive there by the support of many planes. United States-made planes were in operation on various sectors.

Eight populated places were occupied in the southern sector of the western front, and a score of places released from their German garrison on a central sector. Southwest of Kharkov in the Ukraine a Rumanian ski detachment was reported destroyed.

From this front Col. G. Nadysev wrote that German artillery had become miserable in its functioning and no longer was a vital factor. Where a division formerly included two artillery regiments it now has but one, he said, and the number of big guns in a regiment has been reduced from 60 to 48.

To add to their difficulties, he said, the Germans are handicapped by drifted roads and lack of gasoline for the tractors that draw the guns. Mass artillery fire which formerly preceded an infantry attack has been done away with he said.

Foreign Forces

Men May Join Armies Raised In Canada By Recognized Governments

Ottawa.—The government has decided to permit men who came here from Poland, Norway, The Netherlands, Belgium or Czechoslovakia and now are naturalized Canadians, to join forces being raised in Canada by recognized governments of their native lands.

In the past the government has refused to allow naturalized men to be enlisted in foreign forces recruited here in the belief that service in such a force would interfere with their assimilation as Canadians when they returned after the war.

The new policy does not extend to free French because the Free French ruling body is not recognized as a government. Any naturalized Canadian from France wishing to enlist would have to join Canada's army.

New Rule In Egypt

Will Have First United Front Regime Since War Began

Cairo.—King Farouk asked Mustafa Nahas Pasha, head of the Wafd Egypt's largest political party, to form a national union government to replace the cabinet of Hussein Sirry Pasha, which resigned recently. Political circles declared Nahas commands the support of the majority of the people and said the king's decision was satisfactory to the British government.

The Wafd had previously refused to participate in recent cabinets. Formation of a government representing all political parties will give Egypt the first united front administration since the war began.

LATIN-AMERICAN OFFICERS AT CAMP BORDEN

From Uruguay came officers of the army of that South American republic to learn something of military training in Canada. At Camp Borden they were shown the workings of the Canadian army, including something about modern equipment. Here Sergeant-Major Instructor R. NEW SET-UP FOR CANADIAN ARMY MEANS MORE ACTIVE ROLE FOR MILITARY SERVICES

Ottawa.—The new set-up for the Canadian reserve army, an army to be composed of men not eligible by age or medical category for active service, was announced by the department of national defence.

Under the new arrangement men in the age and other classifications liable to compulsory military service will no longer be exempt from compulsory call-up by reason of membership in reserve army units.

As previously forecast the set-up envisages a more active role for the reserve in Canada's military organization than any hitherto contemplated. Fulfillment of the role means more training and the provision of more equipment which now is available and will be issued.

The reserve will be organized in 11 brigade groups, one in each military district and each complete with the ancillary troops and services usually associated with a fully-organized brigade overseas. One of the brigade groups has been already organized on the Pacific coast.

The defence department's statement said future enlistments in the reserve will be restricted:

1. To men under 19 and over 35.
2. To those in the intervening age groups who have not been rejected for overseas service because of medical category.
3. To those who have been granted postponements from active service because of key employment in war industry.

A brigade group normally comprises three or four infantry battalions and necessary ancillary troops such as army service corps, medical corps pay corps, artillery.

A brigade group in each military district will not call for inclusion of all the reserve army units in that district as most districts have a considerable number of reserve units.

The 11 brigade groups in all, however, will be the equivalent of four divisions.

Reserve units not included in the brigade will be made responsible for local defence and aiding the civil power in the event of air attack or other serious disturbances due to enemy action. They, however, will carry on more or less as before as individual units but with accelerated training.

Each new brigade group will have full-time brigade commander from the active army and a brigade staff.

"These brigades," said the announcement, "will be organized and armed as a fighting formation with the ancillary troops and services usually associated with a fully organized brigade overseas."

The extended periods of camp and other training required to bring the reserve units up to the desired efficiency will be so arranged as to enable all ranks to attend without undue interference with their civilian employment as many men in the reserve are engaged in vital war jobs.

"Equipment is becoming available in increasing quantities and greater opportunity will be provided for more intensive training at local armories and on weekend tactical exercises with pay," said the announcement.

"Service in reserve units, whether within or without the newly-constituted brigade groups, will give to citizens who are unable to serve in the active forces an opportunity to devote time to effective military training so as to be capable of serving in an emergency."

While the announcement did not say so, it is understood a high degree of mobility is contemplated for the brigade groups. Some mechanical transport will be provided. When their training, organization and equipment reaches the desired degree it is expected they will be capable of being moved from one part of the country to another.

Thus, in the event of invasion all might be moved towards the coast attacks, not necessarily into the front line but fairly close to the front as supporting troops.

By the restrictions on enlistment, the reserve in future will leave all eligible men—except those from 35 to 45—available for enlistment in the active army for service anywhere in the world or for compulsory military training. Men called up for training are not required to serve overseas but are retained in the army for active service in Canada after completing their four-month training courses.

The restriction leaves a wide group within which voluntary enlistment is the only way of getting into the army on the basis of the present system of calling up men.

So far only those who were 21 to 24 in July, 1940, or who subsequently reach the age of 21 and are unmarried and without children are called.

From now on men from 19 to 21, from 26 to 35 if up to active service standards and not married or widowers without children, as well as married men and widowers without children, serious disturbances due to enemy action. They, however, will carry on more or less as before as individual units but with accelerated training.

Each new brigade group will have full-time brigade commander from the active army and a brigade staff.

"These brigades," said the announcement, "will be organized and armed as a fighting formation with the ancillary troops and services usually associated with a fully organized brigade overseas."

Workers In Ottawa

Canadian Government Has 65,000 Men And Women On Pay Roll

Ottawa. — The Canadian government now employs 65,000 men and women on full-time work, it was shown in an estimate prepared by the finance department. The number of full-time government workers in Ottawa is approximately 25,000. In addition there are many part time workers and temporary employees.

ALLIED AIR FORCES OPERATING OVER WIDE STRETCHES TAKE A HEAVY TOLL OF ENEMY SHIPS

London. Allied air forces operating over wide stretches of European and Pacific waters sank or damaged 74 Axis vessels of all types in January, it was estimated in an official summary.

In the Pacific theatre, where Allied strength is increasing, 52 Japanese vessels were sent to the bottom or hit. Destruction of a 20,000-ton liner was the highlight of operations in the Mediterranean, where 15 vessels were sunk or damaged.

In the North Sea and off the Atlantic coast six enemy supply ships and a tanker were sunk, damaged or set afire.

The European total includes attacks on convoys off the Netherlands coast and on other shipping in the North Sea, and a series of night attacks to which the warships Gneisenau, Scharnhorst and Prinz Eugen were subject at Brest, occupied France.

Information from the Far East is incomplete, but there have been at least 43 attacks by the R.A.F. and the Royal Australian Air Force against 23 land targets, many of which were airdromes occupied by the enemy. Defensive and offensive operations in that area resulted in the destruction of 213 aircraft in addition to other losses inflicted by United States and Netherlands Indies air forces.

Improved flying conditions over Europe permitted the R.A.F. to intensify the scale of its offensive operations. The bomber command operated on 20 nights and in addition staged 11 day sorties.

In comparison the German air force was over Britain on 12 nights and the scale of its attacks was not comparable with British raids against Germany.

There were 15 attacks against military and industrial targets in Germany. The main weight of the raids was directed at Emden which was visited seven times. Bremen, Hamburg and Munster were attacked twice each.

Ports and harbor facilities continued to be the main targets in occupied Europe. Brest bore the brunt with 12 attacks, almost half of the month's total of 26. Factories, warehouses, communications and enemy troops were attacked in six daylight sweeps by fighters.

In the Middle East 65 attacks were made against 19 targets. Muchombed Tripoli was given 12 pastings and Halfaya 12.

Operations over the United Kingdom, Europe and the Middle East cost the R.A.F. 124 aircraft while 111 Axis aircraft were destroyed in the air or on the ground. 2459

It Was A Gift

Russia Seizes 1,200 Brand New Nazi Tanks

London.—The British say the Russian army in the Ukraine has 1,200 brand new, unused tanks just delivered P.O.B. from factories in Germany.

The B.B.C. quotes Moscow press despatches that the tanks were seized in the Soviet capture of Loozovaya before they could be put into action. This, says the B.B.C., indicates the violence of the Russian attack.

Dean Of Advertising Men

Toronto.—J. J. Gibbons, 64, dean of Canadian advertising men and founder and president of the agency bearing his name, died at his home here after an illness of three months. He founded the J. J. Gibbons Ltd., advertising agency 43 years ago, and became known as one of the outstanding advertising men in Canada.

IMPROVED TYPES OF WEAPONS ARE VERY ESSENTIAL, SAYS LIEUT.-GENERAL McNAUGHTON

Ottawa.—Canada can make a tremendous contribution to the winning of the war by putting its brains—in work, Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Corps overseas, said at a press conference.

To this end he wants Canadian technicians to study every weapon and see if they cannot produce a better one, one capable of being turned out in mass production in the factories of North America.

"I have a feeling that out of Canada will come new and improved types of weapons and more effective weapons," said the general, who after two years with the army overseas has lost none of the enthusiasm for scientific research which he displayed while chairman of the National Research Council.

"We have reached no finality in the development of weapons of war," he said, after commenting on the products of Canadian industry reaching the army overseas. All along the line, he said, from guns to clothing, these products were "better than the best."

"Now that we have our production organized," he said, "we can very well take some of our best production men and set them to work on research to see if we can't get something better."

As Canadian factories enter production the products are sent to the overseas army for practical tests, he said. As a result the Canadian army overseas was itching for the time when it could get its hands on Canadian-made products with which to go to war.

"The best tanks of a year ago are out-moded to-day," he said. "The best tanks of to-day will be out-moded in six months."

More Propaganda

Germany Trying To Make Trouble Between Australia And Britain

Canberra.—Army Minister Francis Forde branded as an "absolute lie" German propaganda to the effect Australian troops had been left in Bengasi to carry out a tough fight.

"There are absolutely no Australians engaged in the Bengasi area," Mr. Forde said. "The statement is typical Axis propaganda designed to drive a wedge between Australia and Britain, and to affect public morale."

State Of Siege

London.—A Reuters despatch from Stockholm said measures approaching a state of siege had been imposed by Nazi authorities upon Amsterdam as a result of demonstrations and sabotage. No civilians may go out of doors after 8 p.m. and street cars stop running at seven.

"By using our brains in the incessant and everlasting struggle for superior weapons we have got a great contribution to make."

Canada's new heavy tank, soon to be in the hands of the Canadian overseas army, is called "The Ram," he said, and he described it as the "best ever."

Gen. McNaughton said he would spend "just a very short time" in Canada. He had been given a clean bill of health by army doctors following his recent illness but had been advised to delay his return to active command and so "on the principle of trying to capitalize on adversity" was paying a visit to Canada.

During his stay here he will renew contacts with the staffs in Canada, exchange views and tidy up some administrative matters.

He had a deep interest in the mobilization of Canadian industry and hoped to see something of that, particularly because of his satisfaction with the quality of the Bren guns, Bren carriers, tanks, armored cars and other products being shipped overseas.

"In this war as you know manpower is not the only thing," said the general. "It is the combination of manpower and industrial power that counts. You have got to use machines to multiply the speed of man."

Canadians should be thankful it is that kind of war because no people in the world have a better background in the use of machinery.

He was also anxious to see in Canada some of the training units for officers, non-commissioned officers and tradesmen where soldiers get their training in the use of machines.

Coleman's Victory Loan Quota Set At $68,000; $15,000 Higher Than Last Year's Objective

Coleman has been allotted a quota of $68,000 in the Second Victory Loan. This is $15,000 higher than last year when a $53,000 quota was allotted. Since Coleman totalled $110,000 in the last loan it is confidently expected that with the full support of the public the quota can easily be obtained.

A canvassers' meeting was held on Thursday evening, presided over by Chairman W. White. Divisional organizer Ken Ringland was in attendance and gave instructions to the canvassers.

Canvassers include N. Ash, A. Toppiano, W. Chuckla, A. Brown, E. Chur'a, A. Balloch, S. B. Ryan, T. Holstead, S. C. Short, H. Houghton, N. Urkewich.

They will canvass wage earners during the period Monday, February 16 to Saturday March 7. Naturally they will be unable to call at everyone's home the first evening but after a few days they will have covered their districts fairly well. If no one calls the first few nights there is no need for alarm. Each wage earner's name is on file at the Loan headquarters in the premises recently vacated by Archie's Radio Shop, and there is no chance of anyone being overlooked.

It is advisable for those considering purchasing bonds to give it serious thought during the next two days so that when the canvasser calls they are in a position to know just what amount they can afford to spend. They are in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000 and up.

Staying Power and Striking Power

These two qualities combine to bring Victory Canada's fighting forces have the staying power. Their striking power is growing greater every day.

But they must have more weapons and more equipment to make their striking power invincible.

That's the reason for this second Victory Loan—more striking power for Canada's fighters.

That's the reason why you should—

California Beauty To Aid Coleman Loan Campaign

Evelyn Dinsmoor, "Miss Sunshine," straight from the winter Sun Festival of Southern California, will do her bit in Alberta to assist Canada's Second Victory Loan. Arriving by Western Airlines' plane in Lethbridge on Friday next, pretty Evelyn Dinsmoor, flag waver and drum majorette of the Rainbow Corp, famed Long Beach, California, contingent of 26 picked beauties, is slated to appear throughout southern Alberta during the first week of Canada's Second Victory Loan Campaign.

Just 18 years old, Evelyn is noted for her radio singing. Her headline appearance at Victory Loan rallies in towns will include group singing, dancing and twirling of a specially designed flag.

The flag will symbolize the unity of Canada and the United States. On one side the R.C.A.F. wings will appear on a red background, and reversed will be a blue background displaying the United States Army Air Corp Wings. Her official uniform of the Rainbow Corp is white satin, with the colours of the rainbow stitched on the jacket, hat and skirt. The blouse has rainbow stripes shaped in V for Victory design.

Well known throughout the Southland, Miss Dinsmoor was selected as Miss Sunshine from among 50 contestants. In this role she has been featured throughout the United States as typical of the beauties reigning in Southern California throughout the all winter Sun Festival, staged there annually to highlight the area's many attractions.

During her appearance in many Southern Alberta towns, which include Coleman, Miss Dinsmoor will travel with artists from the R.C.A.F. Bombing and Gunner school situated at Lethbridge. A number of the officers and men have formulated a party of entertainers to tour with Miss Dinsmoor, and will also carry with them interesting facts to show South Albertans how their money is utilized when loaned to the Dominion of Canada.

In addition to the above the Macleod R.C.A.F. band will be in attendance. Starring are Professor Razella, accordion player deluxe, the No. 8 Bombardiers, known as the Barber Shop Quartet, and AC2 D. M. Prior, pianist. Prof. Razella is positively outstanding on the accordion and it is doubtful if anyone has been heard in Coleman to better him. The quartet are practicing hard and will be excellent entertainment, while Mr. Prior on the piano is certainly 50% better than average.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

War as waged by a country like Canada is a strange combination of softheartedness, steely determination, and a false feeling of frustration.

We read about and reflect on Nazi atrocities. The Huns bomb old ladies and little children out of cities into the highways in order to choke the roads and impede the military movements of their enemies. Nazis and Japs seize innocent people as hostages and shoot them down when their fellow countrymen dare to oppose Nazi oppression.

These inhuman acts sicken us. Loving peace, we grow tender as we realize that but for geographical reasons, Canadian mothers and Canadian children might be similar victims of these bestial races.

Out of that softness of heart rises a great personal urge to stamp out these tyrants—to make the whole world free for decent human beings.

And then comes the moment when some in Canada feel frustrated.

That shouldn't be. Those of us left back in Canada can fling our dollars into the war effort with as much vigour as Canadian sailors, soldiers and airmen apply to the battle at the front. And those dollars are as important as the operations of the military forces overseas. Every dollar subscribed to the Victory Loan means another step forward towards the end of brutal tyranny.

Fight with your dollars as the Canadian boys fight with their machine guns. Don't hold back your fire.

OTTAWA

Secret Session

In tune with the forecasts of this observer about possible surprises in this history-making session, Premier Mackenzie King has informed Parliament that if a secret session is found to be necessary or if it is desired, it will be held. This is extremely important because earlier in the session and in previous sessions such a request did not receive the same reply, though it must be admitted that the Government had definite reasons for its attitude on those occasions. However, this latest request, or enquiry by the leader of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation, M. J. Coldwell, has received a favourable reply in regard to the Government's changed attitude towards secret sessions of Parliament.

Wheat Price Will Rise

It is reported along Parliament Hill that good news may be expected by the farmer because both the price of wheat and the demand for it as well as the price of grain may be much better, if present signs indicate the right trend. Indeed, it is stated that the price next year may be as high as 90 cents a bushel instead of this year's guaranteed price of 70 cents a bushel. Of course, it must be emphasized that much will depend upon the developments in the war situation, such as the extent of the demands for Canadian wheat to be shipped to Russia or the demands from Britain, both for wheat and coarse grains.

Inquiry into Hong Kong Expedition After considerable discussion and debate in the House of Commons, a committee of that body will conduct a careful inquiry into the Hong Kong expedition, with two main points keeping the attention of the men holding the probe, that is they want to find out why 138 men included less than six weeks were trained in the expedition and why there was a loss of equipment, though in the latter case the fact that the transport only reached as far as Manila, where it fell into the friendly hands of the United States forces in the Philippines fighting the Japanese, is not considered an unfortunate end for this equipment as events have turned out.

The Truth About The Plebiscite There are certain things which an impartial observer backlogs on Parliament Hill must do and certain things that he chooses to do. The first are duties and the second are privileges. Therefore, it is extremely doubtful if at any time since the establishment upon a firm basis of Confederation in Canada have observers in the nation's capital had any greater example of grim responsibility in their line of duty than exists today in reporting the actual circumstances prevailing along Parliament Hill in regard to the war service plebiscite. Without taking any sides in this issue, directly or indirectly, nor approving or disapproving of this move by the Government, it is the duty of this observer to report to the man-in-the-street throughout Canada that extreme caution or prudence must be exercised now in adjudicating all discussions or reports about this plebiscite. Political considerations and ambitions enter into the issue at a time when these peacetime activities should not exist. Indeed, these activities are so manifest and so deeply borne into the imagination of representatives of all political parties on Parliament Hill that mere casual reading of reports or mere listening to brief radio items about the plebiscite are not enough.

Information Bureau's Staff Again Increased Since the adjournment of Parliament last June until last November 1, five additional appointments have been made to the already large staff of the Bureau of Public Information outside of clerical and stenographic help which has been added, including R. A. Farquharson, as editor-in-chief of news and features at $5,200 a year, Mrs. M. Lutton, editor, at $1,500 a year, A. S. Brisby, assistant to art and printing supervisor, $2,820, Donatien Fremont, French writer and editor of pamphlets at $3,120 a year, and Miss M. Ferguson, editor, at $2,100 a year.

Signs of Prosperity Notwithstanding the conditions of a greater degree of employment throughout Canada and the considerable quantities shipped to Canadian fighting men abroad, a surprising report has been made in Ottawa that no less than 3,681,000,000 cigarettes were made available for consumption last year, involving a gain of more than 1,000,000,000 over the record number of 1940. Actually, it is an advance of 13 per cent above the peak reached in 1940 and over 46 per cent above the average for the five pre-war years. In other words, in face of the war and heavy taxation, Canadians are smoking more today than ever before in the history of this nation.

Mutual Help: The race of mankind would perish did they cease to aid each other. We cannot exist without mutual help. All therefore that need aid have a right to ask it from their fellow men; and no one who has the power of granting can refuse it without guilt.—Walter Scott.

A HUNDRED TONS OF FOOD

In his life a human being consumes a tremendous amount of food. In 70 years he eats 1,400 times his body weight—over 200,000 pounds of material.

The amount of food that he will take includes 5,000 loaves of bread, 3 oxen, 4 calves, 8 hogs, 4 sheep and 300 chickens. The amount of fish taken will include 2,000 large fish, 3,000 sardines, flounders and herring.

He will eat about 5,000 pounds of potatoes, 12,000 pounds of other vegetables, 14,000 pounds of fruit and 6,000 quarts of milk. He will take in also 12,000 quarts of coffee; 1,000 pounds of salt; 5,000 eggs; 8,000 pounds of sugar; 2,000 pounds of cheese; 10,000 quarts of water; and a lot of smaller delicacies.—Youth Today.

Peigan Indians Will Boost for Victory Loan

Guests at the Lions Club luncheon meeting on Wednesday in the Aerodrome Dining Room were Chief Yellowhorn, Leo Smith, John English and Teddy Yellow Wing, of the Peigan Reserve. In responding to an introductory address by Fred O'Mara, Chief Yellowhorn, through his interpreter, stated that he was pleased to be among friends, and appreciated the courtesy of the invitation. In connection with the forthcoming Victory Loan drive, he said his people would do everything they could to help in the cause for Allied victory. At the first Victory Loan drive last June the chief and many of the Indians from Peigan played a colorful part in the inaugural parade.—Macleod Gazette.

German Field Guns To Make British Munitions

Following World War I, captured German field guns and howitzers were distributed to cities and towns in Canada and as souvenirs were mounted in public places, Macleod having two which were placed alongside the war memorial. Salvaging of these guns has been ordered, and this week the Macleod guns were signed over to the local salvage committee to be shipped east or wherever designated by the Department of Militia and Defence.—Macleod Gazette.

SOME INTERESTING ESTIMATES

It has been estimated that if every household in Canada collected 8 lbs. of bones, 10 lbs. of magazines, 1 lb. of aluminum, 10 lbs. of other metals, 6 lbs. of rags, 10 lbs. of waste paper, 3 lbs. of fats, each month, and sold them to the dealers, they would produce a revenue of a million dollars monthly for war charities! This does not seem like a very large order and it should be feasible until the reservoirs of old disused articles lying around have been cleaned out. Then salvage will depend upon materials flowing through homes and industry—such as rags, rubber, fats and bones, paper.

NO CEILING ON PRICES OF SOME PRODUCE

While most manufactured and processed goods come under price ceilings of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, there are no price ceilings on fresh water fish, cod, herring, haddock, smelts, hake, clams and halibut. Nor are there price ceilings on fresh fruit and greenhouse products. There are no ceilings on live stock, poultry, eggs, milk, cream, dairy butter, farm-made cheese, honey and maple syrup, when these are sold to dealers. If sold to consumers, prices must not exceed those charged in the basic period between September 15 and October 11 last.

All vegetables, save onions, are exempted from price ceilings. Onions were exempted until January 12 last, when it became apparent that speculative buying was taking place. To prevent profiteering, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, promptly announced a "ceiling" on onions, fixing prices to wholesalers at the current on January 10. The Board reserves the right to fix ceilings on all exempt commodities should prices become other than "just and reasonable."

STILL GOING STRONG

Editor W. J. Bartlett has just completed 32 years with The Blairmore Enterprise. This is an unusually long time for any man to be connected with the one paper. We congratulate our old friend on getting by in all these years without ever getting shot—although he admits of once being half shot and missing an issue. "Bar" has battled with the elements of winter and summer; he has battled with irate subscribers and he has battled with Tim Buck and his followers, but always come out ahead. The Blairmore Enterprise and its versatile editor will be remembered long after Tim Buck and the Tim Buck boulevard are forgotten. The Enterprise is a homey paper, a newsworthy paper, and with kernels of wit and wisdom sprinkled in here and there to enliven its columns. May it also never grow less.—F.J.S. in Cranbrook Courier.

CANADA'S HORSE POPULATION

The number of horses in Canada on June 1, 1941, was 2,168,600. In addition to that number there were 424,500 colts and fillies and 23,800 stallions.

The number of horses in Alberta last June was 666,300 which included 106,000 colts and fillies and 8,300 stallions.

Nazi Ammunition Train Wrecked by R.A.F. Fighters

During recent nocturnal patrols over northern France Hurricane fighters of the British Royal Air Force set on fire an ammunition train at point-blank range and derailed it, despite the barrage put up by anti-aircraft guns mounted on the train. "It blew up with orange flashes and a terrific explosion," reported one R.A.F. pilot who hit the third ammunition wagon; "other wagons became involved, and before we left the whole train was derailed and set on fire." This artist's impression shows the attack in progress.

Britain's Gun Production Soaring

Gun production in Britain since August has risen by leaps and bounds. In October, for instance, the output of anti-tank guns of the latest types showed an increase of over 600 per cent, and field artillery of nearly 700 per cent over the figures for September, 1940. More Bofors guns were produced in September than in any previous month on record. This picture shows a corner of a shop where gun barrels are bored, each large machine being controlled by a girl.

ELIMINATE USELESS FRILLS

The provincial government has given up the mooted suggestion that the increase in old age pensions should be raised by additional taxes on liquor. It was decided the traffic was carrying all it would bear, and that further increases on the present exorbitant prices would decrease sales. As an alternative they talked of a sales tax, whereby the already burdened taxpayer would be further mulcted. The opposition members of the legislature pointed out to the government that if they would eliminate the annual deficit on Treasury branches, and the expense of the Social Credit Board, plus the $6,000-a-year L. D. Byrne, whose job appears to be merely an unnecessary expense, the savings would almost meet the half million dollars required to increase old-age pensions by $5.00 a month. Most taxpayers will heartily agree that this would be right.

the R.C.A.F. band from Macleod. A local speaker will also be heard. Arrangements have been made to seat as many as possible by borrowing chairs from local organizations. The public is asked to come shortly before eight o'clock in order that the program may start on time. It is believed the program will last from one and a half to two hours.

The program will be colorful and entertaining and a message will be given to the people as to how urgent the need for money is to finance this war. The public will also be shown just how their money with which they purchase war bonds will be spent.

A NEW KIND OF SALVAGE
—Sc FOR RAZOR CONTAINERS
Information has just come to hand that a new kind of salvage is available. The empty brass cartridge for holding the blades of the Schick Injector Razor is worth five cents when turned into a dealer. There are 5,000 of these dealers across Canada, and one will likely be found in your neighborhood.

Watch for a counter card or window display card in stores selling this type of goods. Make arrangements to add this type of salvage to your collections from homes. Thousands of these brass cartridges are thrown away annually. Salvage of them will be lucrative to you, and at the same time will conserve metal and many hours of labour.

The Spirit of The Pioneer Mother Flames Anew Today

THINK BACK to the old days—when Canada was young.

Think of the high courage, the indomitable will of those pioneer women. Within the stockade or in the open field, they toiled—yes, fought—by the side of their men for the safeguarding of everything they held dear.

In the hearts of the women of Canada, this old spirit flames anew today! Gone are the heavy muskets, the log barricades—but the love of freedom, the stubborn resolve to win through at all costs—these things remain unchanged, unchangeable!

Grimly quenching their tears, mothers say "God bless you" to their fighting sons—everywhere young women are serving where duty calls—the women of Canada are bound together in one common cause.

In thousands of Canadian homes, women are revising their family budgets, planning new economies, making extra sacrifices—so that more and more money will be available for the purchase of Victory Bonds.

They know—these women of Canada—that every dollar loaned now means more tanks—more guns—more planes—more ships—more of everything which is needed to smash Hitlerism and bring Peace to all the family hearths of the world.

Owing to the large attendance expected at the Victory Loan meeting on Sunday night in the Community hall and the fact that space will be taxed to the limit, only adults will be admitted.

Why My Parents Should Buy Victory Bonds!

Title of Essay Being Sponsored By Local National War Finance
Committee; $10 War Savings
Certificate to Prize Winner.

In a further effort to stimulate the sale of Victory bonds in Coleman the local War Finance Committee is sponsoring an essay the title to be "Why My Parents Should Buy Victory Bonds." Entries will be received from students of the Coleman public and high schools only.

The essay is to be of 250 words or less, each contestant being free to write the most convincing argument for the sale of bonds. The judges will be two of the local teachers. A $10 war savings certificate will be awarded the winner by Committee chairman Wm. White.

Deadline for receiving the entries will be Thursday, February 19, entries to be handed or mailed to Wm. White. The winning essay will be published in full the following week in the Coleman Journal.

Milwaukee Journal: The kids who were whittling model planes only yesterday, to the great confusion of the tidy householder, are now flying real ones for Uncle Sam, and all is forgiven.

Now regulations restricting credit are received with approval by the majority of people. The government has imposed rulings that neither individuals nor merchants have the strength to impose, in spite of the general conviction that all parties would be better off if there was more limited credit. Most people live just one month behind—or perhaps farther. They pay this month for everything consumed last month, and if earnings suddenly stopped they are on a spot.

Now the government requires that all charge accounts be cleaned up by the tenth of the following month, unless it is some large scale purchase on budget plan, for which regular monthly payments are stipulated. For quite a number of people this may bring temporary hardship, and a readjustment of monthly earnings to take care of all charge accounts early in the month. But in the long run it will be a good thing for the purchaser, and a great saving in book-keeping to the merchant. If the bills are not paid, the merchant is within the law in refusing further credit. It is understood, however, that this is not an inflexible ruling, and leniency is extended to those accustomed to paying on the basis of crop returns, or under similar periodic arrangement.

An all cash basis would be still better business for those who have a regular salary and know exactly what their income is. It is wonderful how many things you can do without, if you have to pay cash. What the merchant might lose in volume of business, he might make up in quick returns, and might even be able to sell more cheaply, if bookkeeping expenses were reduced.

At any rate the move toward restricted credit will be generally beneficial in the long run.—High River Times.

Railways Aid War Effort

President of Canadian National Railways Says This Is A War Of Transport

The prime function of the railways to-day is to do their part in carrying out the war programme, and the whole effort of their workers will continue to be directed to their war duties, R. C. Vaughan, president of the Canadian National Railways declared in an address which he delivered as guest speaker to the Canadian Club of Montreal.

"Railways in Action," was the title of Mr. Vaughan's address and in stressing the role being played to-day by Canadian enterprise he said: "This is a war of transport—transport on land, transport on sea, transport in the air. The railway is a mighty war machine, and war conditions present a challenge to management and to railway workers which will be met to the full. We will not be satisfied until we are certain that Canada will say at the end of the war, no job was better done than that of the railways."

Mr. Vaughan said that at the outbreak of war Canada had nearly 43,000 miles of steam railway, and of this 51 per cent was operated by the Canadian National. Previously there had been a period nearly ten years of reduced earnings yet the operators of the properties had maintained lines and equipment in good order and when war came Canada found itself in possession of an asset of incomparable value, railways serving every community, large and small, between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

"Even the light traffic lines which had long represented a heavy drain on the net revenues of the railway came to have an added value to the nation," said Mr. Vaughan. Great new industries began to take shape in communities where there had been no industry before; landing fields, schools and depots for the Commonwealth Training Plan—more than a hundred in number, and great military camps appeared, many of them situated on vacant or barren land. Each had one requirement which had to be met; it must be served by a railway to make its operation possible. Shipbuilding plants were established or enlarged—all, again, finding the railway essential to bring them the material for their work. Foodstuffs from tens of thousands of farms rolled in refrigerator and other cars to our ports to be dispatched overseas, and that great stream continued. "The natural resources of forest and of the mine were required as never before for the new mechanical warfare, and the railway with its steel stretching into the so-called wildernesses of Canada brought these resources out to be used either in the Dominion, in Britain, or elsewhere."

Mr. Vaughan recalled that there had been built for the development of the country and which had led to the opening of northwestern Quebec and the establishment of such a great enterprise as the Noranda mines, the building of lines in Manitoba which made possible the opening of the Pin Point claim, the opening of the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company, and he continued: "It was suggested from time to time that swastically all of the National transcontinental main line between Quebec and Moncton should disappear. That line is now the most vital railway line in the present time of war material from Canada to Great Britain. Other suggestions included the abandonment of the Canadian National lines between Ottawa and Winnipeg, and between Toronto and Winnipeg, and it would not be difficult to recognize the effect, particularly at the present time of such a step had it been taken. I mention those suggestions to show how fortunate Canada is to have available for her wartime needs adequate railway mileage into and through all her immense territory." Improved financial conditions were dealt with. Mr. Vaughan found these due to increased efficiency and economy. In 1941 the physical volume of traffic on the Canadian National was 17 per cent greater than that handled in 1928, yet the operating expenses in 1941 were twenty million dollars, or eight per cent, less than in 1928.

In conclusion Mr. Vaughan said: "In the Canadian Active Forces to-day there are some nine thousand men from the Canadian railroads, and a large additional number are in the merchant marine. In the shops of both railway companies heavy weapons for the armies and navies of the united nations are being fashioned. In its shipyard at Prince Rupert the Canadian National Railways is building cargo ships and minesweepers, while officers from both railways are on loan to Canadian, British and other governments to direct many important branches of war effort."

The German army had 791,000 horses in active duty in June, 1940.

New Plastic Material

Expected To Solve Problem Of Shortage In War Industries

Excellite, a new construction material somewhat resembling plastic, has made its appearance as a substitute for critical war materials in the U.S.

The product, announced by Designers for Industry, Inc., is expected to solve the problems of many manufacturers unable to obtain materials because of priorities. Materials used in the new product include a major portion of wood excelsior, water, a small amount of silicate of soda, soy bean protein and quicklime. Advantages claimed for the plastic-like wood are that it is strong and resilient, heat insulating, is easily handled without danger of breakage, can be sawed, planed or nailed, and will not swell or bulge. The use of long cut strands of wood which have not been acted upon by chemicals is responsible for the strength of the product.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FEBRUARY 15

THE HEALING MINISTRY OF JESUS

Golden text: He had compassion on them and healed their sick. Matthew 14:14.

Lesson: Mark 1:35-3:12; Luke 4:42-44; 5:12-38.

Devotional reading: Psalm 103:1-13.

Explanations and Comments

A Paralytic Healed, Mark 2:1-12; Lesson: 5:17-24. Some days after the events recorded in Capernaum. When it became known that he was in the house, the people came in crowds to see him. They filled the house, jammed the door leading to the street, and hung around in such crowds outside that no one else could enter. When four men, who had heard of Jesus' wonderful deeds of healing and believed implicitly in his power, approached with a paralyzed friend on a light pallet, no one would make room for them. The four men were resourceful and undiscouraged. Taking their burden up the outer stairway to the roof, they removed the covering and made a hole large enough to let the man down on his bed at the foot of the Great Physician.

"If you find that one door is blocked, try another, and if no ordinary way is open, make a new and extraordinary way. Tear up the road to make a new departure. Love is inventive, and enthusiasm is persistent." (Samuel Chadwick).

And Jesus, seeing their faith, or, as the King James Version has it, When Jesus saw their faith, he said, As you read the story, what is it that you especially admire in these four men? Their perseverance? Their ability when the regular avenue of approach was closed to them to find another way in which to accomplish their purpose? Their pluckiness? Their proof of the qualities that aroused the approbation of Jesus; it was their faith that was proved by their deed. They believed in him and in his power to cure their friend. Their confidence in him was absolute.

NEW CBC PROGRAMMES

On February 9th in the early morning hours, National Daylight Saving was instituted throughout Canada, coincident with a similar move in the United States. As the Eastern networks had already been in Daylight Saving in Canada, many adjustments were necessitated in CBC Programme Schedules. Listeners who in recent weeks have found their favorite programmes popping up on new days or at new hours will understand by this that the new National Daylight Saving law is the cause.

All other considerations are secondary to winning the war these days, and many important CBC programmes in the new schedule are therefore related to war service in one way or another. Recently a new series broadcast in co-operation with the Director of Public Information has been commenced, under the title "As A Matter of Fact." This is heard daily, except Saturdays and Sundays, at 5:00 p.m. CST, 4:00 p.m. MST. These times are subject to change under the new Daylight Saving schedules, which at this writing have not yet been announced.

A new series of interest to Canadians on the cultural side is the weekly broadcast of British Ballad Operas, from Toronto. This is heard on Sundays at 7:30 p.m. CST, 6:30 p.m. MST (again subject to change under Daylight Saving). In the opening broadcast in January, the eminent British conductor, Eugene Goossens, directed Handel's Acis and Galatea, and in the second programme Rose Hampton, celebrated young soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, was heard in Henry Purcell's Dido and Aeneas. Other famous artists to be heard are John Brownlee, baritone, of the Metropolitan Opera, and Raoul Jobin, tenor, Edwin McArthur, Sir Ernest MacMillan, and Arthur Benjamin are among the well known conductors who will take part. Some of the operas to be heard are: The Bohemian Girl, by Michael Balfe; Merrill England, by Sir Edward German; The Immortal Hour, by Rutland Boughton; Hug the Drover, by Ralph Vaughan Williams; The Devil Take Her, by Arthur Benjamin; and Transit Through Fire, by Healey Willan. The last is a new opera specially commissioned by the CBC from Dr. Healey Willan, eminent Canadian composer and vice-principal of Toronto's famous Conservatory of Music. Its sub-title is: "An Odyssey of 1942."
